

Benefits of Membership

Membership in AMTA brings the satisfaction of belonging to the premier U.S. organization dedicated to the application of membrane filtration and desalting processes for water treatment. Take advantage of the resources that AMTA membership makes available to you.

Professional Development

AMTA provides educational programming and training by hosting technical workshops, online training and conferences. AMTA and AWWA annually hosts the premier Membrane Technology Conference in the U.S.

Legislative and Regulatory Advocacy

As the nation's leading advocate of membrane technology, AMTA continues to be a strong voice for regulatory and legislative change to remove regulatory obstacles and encourage increased use of membrane filtration and desalting processes for water by representing membrane filtration interests before the U.S. Congress, state legislatures, state and federal regulatory agencies, and the media.

Discounts

Members receive discounted rates on AMTA sponsored technology transfer workshops, webinars, online training, conferences and publications. Members also receive discounts on events and publications sponsored by the International Desalination Association (IDA).

Company Recognition

Member companies have the opportunity to submit a 100-word company profile with their information that is viewable by all members and be recognized for sponsoring events, the Solutions newsletter and web banner.

Networking & Information Exchange

AMTA provides regional, national and international networking opportunities between membrane industry, utilities and consultants. A membership directory is available to AMTA members to promote networking.

Members Only Resources

Members enjoy complimentary access to the Solutions quarterly newsletter; technical white papers and reports developed by AMTA; the Digital Library with conference and workshop proceedings, papers and presentations; and searchable membership directory. Members have the opportunity to submit articles for AMTA's publications and events.

Recognition

Each year, AMTA members are recognized for their contributions to the membrane industry based on nominations of their peers. AMTA with support of its partners recognizes outstanding graduate student research with annual fellowship awards.

Leadership

Take advantage of opportunities to grow professionally by getting involved on the Board of Directors or committees and volunteering as a speaker/moderator for educational and networking events.
